Miami, Fla.—AP—The Cuban Refugee Emergency Center reported that more than $1 million a month in federal funds is being given to Cuban exiles in the Miami area.

Checks average $80 a month and some run to $100 a month, officials said.

Since last November, 57,000 Cuban refugees have registered at the center. Officials say almost 10,000 of these have moved to other cities.

Castro Plans An Execution

Miami, Fla—AP—An anti Castro organization says that the Cuban government plans to execute housewives to stop public protest about food shortages.

The first publicly known execution of a woman since Fidel Castro came to power will take place on Tuesday, a Cuban holiday, according to the organization, the People's Revolutionary Movement MRP.

The MRP was considered one of the most effective underground outfits operating in Cuba before the unsuccessful April invasion.

By report, it was forced to halt operations, along with other underground groups, when the invasion failed, but recently was reorganized and now is operating again.

Tuesday is Grito de Yara-Cry of Yara-Day; the anniversary of the 1868 call at Yara, in eastern Cuba, for revolution against Spain.

HIGH COURT DECLINES

Washington —AP— The Supreme Court declined today to rule on a validity of a California effort to bar subversive organizations from use of school buildings for public meetings.

Council Will Hear Report

Dr. Donald W. Bailey, dean of students, is expected to report to the Board of Directors Wednesday at 3 p.m. concerning the meeting of Atelier art club representatives and council members held Friday to discuss apportionment of funds raised by the organization last spring.

Resulting from the six member conference is a proposal that of the $1,100 earned by an art auction, $500 be given to Student Loan Fund and $600 to Atelier for specific purposes.

Dale Galloway, Engineering representative, and Demetrius Koubourlis, Humanities and Fine Arts representative, agreed to the apportionment suggested by art club members. Jim Williams, Business Administration representative, did not accept the proposal on the basis of his understanding that a 50-50 division of the funds was agreed upon orally by the Student Loan Fund Drive committee and the club prior to the auction.

Negotiations for Atelier were made by David Kiesewetter, Frank Owen and Richard Steltzner.

Preceding the meeting, Bailey, chairman of the committee, noted that the problem arose from the lack of a definite agreement between the SLF members and the art club. He said that, legally, since no amounts were stipulated previously, Atelier could make the decision on the apportionment. However, according to the original understanding, the money alloted to Atelier would then be restricted to the purchase of art books.

Bailey stated that the two groups were sincerely trying to reach a satisfactory compromise on both points. Purposes for which the $600 would be used by Atelier include art books, a proposed art institute, possible art exhibitions or guest speakers.

Suzanne Williams, club president, clarified the art club's position concerning the problem: "Our one interest is in applying the funds which we earned to campus-wide activities and enrichments, such as colloquia, symposiums, a permanent gallery collection of well-known art works, and other cultural enhancements that would benefit not only the art students, but all of the students and faculty of ASSSC who are interested in the advancement of the arts. At no time have we expressed the desire to use these funds for departmental or Atelier club purposes."

Bylaws Lead to Chaos

Editor, The State Hornet:

Last Wednesday's meeting of the Board of Directors opened in a setting of comparative tranquility, and it appeared as though things were flowing in accord to the chairman's plan; committees reported and advisors advised . . . all to the tune of parliamentary procedure. The program had the flavor of The New Deal, but I felt as though I were sitting on its borders in the company of the sisters of the D. A. R.

Then Pat McIntosh rose to reannounce the running of an old Omega Chi Delta production, entitled, We Didn't Do It! Pandora's box was opened, Lady Parliament jumped out the nearest window, while Wardell Connerly's gavel entuned Dave Willis' bewildered croakings of Parliamentary Doom. The various other members of the board moved, removed and unmoved nearly every proposal which somehow made its way to the floor. The essence of Democracy is surely conflict, and this we have, but I'm not as certain that the essence of conflict is chaos.

The issue at hand, if my observation is correct, is this: last semester our illustrious Board of Justice found in its prudent opinion that OCD had in some way unbeknown to me, violated the standing pact between Sacramento State College and the University of California at Davis. OCD, on the other hand, asserted that the decision of the justice was invalid, and therefore appealed its case to last semester's council, which unfortunately has somewhat of an aversion to uncomfortable decisions and pushed the case to this semester This then brings us to the last meeting of the Board of Directors.

The problem facing the board at present is threefold; first of all, there seems to exist some doubt as to the guilt or innocence of the fraternity; secondly no one appears to be certain of exactly what the Board of Justice did do last semester, and as a result has no legitimate cause to render validity or invalidity to its decision; and finally there is neither statute nor precedent which can be used as a guideline in handling the plight of OCD.

All of which gives rise to a more significant problem: the Board of Directors will never, nor can it ever function as an effective governing body so long as it is crippled by an outmoded and totally ineffective constitution, which obviously does not allow for a logical appeal of grievances; whose present Board of Justice is superflous in that the Board of Directors can in effect reverse its decisions; and which provides for a governing body that legislates, executes, and then conceivably, judges its own actions from the same floor.

There is some indication that Connerly is proposing to junk the entire constitution and start from scratch. If he calls upon the assistance of the capable men available, we can look forward optimistically to this proposal, provided it is later presented to an "informed" student body, which would also be a refreshing change.

SSC guard Gary Vincent (71) brings down Southern Oregon College fullback Al Barnes after a short gain. Vincent is being helped out by an unidentified Hornet.

Hornets Down So. Oregon

BY WAYNE McMILLEN

Penalties kept the Sacramento State gridders from turning a 25-6 win over Southern Oregon into a complete rout as the Hornets scored eight touchdowns, only to have four of them called back by fluttering red flags thrown by officials.

SSC scored the first time they got their hands on the ball as quarterback Wayne Paulk directed a 52 yard drive in five plays. The score came as halfback Adolphus McGee squirted through right guard and went 29 yards to paydirt. The conversion attempt was no good.

The Red Raiders of Southern Oregon got their only score of the evening as they put together an 80 yard drive in the second quarter. Doug Olsen, SOC quarterback, capped the drive with a touchdown toss of 13 yards to back Glen Moses. Olsen's conversion pass failed.

Early in the third quarter, SSC got on the scoreboard again. This time, the drive started on the Oregon 39 after the Red Raiders punted into a stiff wind for only 10 yards. Fullback Gene Reyes smashed over from the three for the score.

On the conversion attempt, Johnny Olander was swarmed under by the Oregonians as he attempted to unload a pass.

The third Hornet score came after Oregon kicked from their end zone to their 35. Reyes started the drive as he swept right end for 14 yards. Halfback Carl Agbulos finished the drive, scoring on a two-yard drive over left guard. Dick Bach booted the conversion.

McGee set up the final Hornet tally as he returned an Oregon punt 22 yards to the Red Raider 40. McGee, Reyes, and George Darrow, coming off the injury shelf, moved the ball to the 19 yard line.

From there, Darrow, playing in his first game this season, carried the ball three straight times for 14, four and one yard for the score. Bach's conversion attempt was wide.

Reyes, who had a great evening packing the pigskin, was disappointed three times as he had three touchdown runs called back because of penalties. One was a tremendous individual effort as he cracked into the middle of the line, was hit by several tacklers, and finally shook loose for a 55 yard effort that didn't count.

In the statistics department, the Hornets completely dominated the game. SSC rolled up a total net yardage of 370. Of the 370 yards, 346 were gained by the crunching ground game of Paulk, Reyes, McGee, Agbluos and Darrow.

Oregon had a total of 130 yards, of which 61 came on the ground.

A stiff wind pretty well stifled the passing game of both teams. Paulk threw 14 times and was able to complete only 3 for SSC. The Raiders fared a little better as Olsen threw 19 times and completed seven.

Reyes and McGee were again the workhorses in the backfield. Reyes carried the mail 23 times for 150 yards and a 6.5 per carry average. McGee carried 15 times and picked up 95 yards for a 6.3 average.

Agbulos, Paulk and Darrow also gave a good account of themselves the times they packed the pigskin. In 23 carries the trio amassed a total of 101 yards.

Clemons' charges had a big edge in first downs as they managed to pick up 20. Coach Al Atkins' Red Raiders could gather only eight, with four of them coming on penalties.

Next week, The Hornets open Far Western Conference play taking on powerful Humboldt State in Hughes Stadium.

SSC Frosh Lose To SFS

Sacramento State's Wasps lost their third straight game of the season to the San Francisco State College Gators by a score of 34 to 6.

The Wasps defense fell prey to the passing attack led by Gator quarterback Larry Baker. Baker completed four touchdown passes and two conversion points. The Gator's only other touchdown came when Joe Cornelius ran 54 yards through the Wasp defense to score.

The only score for the Wasps came when quarterback John Olander threw a 49 yard pass to end Jim Francis. SSC failed to convert.

In the Wasp aerial attack against the Gators Olander completed 20 out of 35 passes against the San Francisco defense backs.

The SSC frosh will take a rest this week but will meet Tracy on October 20.

Frosh Player Of Week Named

Jim Francis, 6 foot-180 pound end for the Sacramento State College Wasps was named frosh "player of the week."

In the San Francisco game, which the Wasps lost 34-6, Francis caught 12 passes for a total of 150 yards. Francis scored the only six points of the game for the Wasps on a 49 yard pass and run from quarterback John Olander.

Last week's player of the week for the frosh team was end Elvin Whittle.

In the SSC-Nevada battle, Whittle caught six points for a total gain of 45 yards, and, according to the coaches, was strong on defense.

The 6 foot-175 pound end is a graduate of Vacaville Union High School where he played football and basketball and ran track.
